

RICHFIELD COMPREHENSIVE PLAN UPDATE

BUILT FOR THE FUTURE

Q. What is the Richfield Comprehensive Plan?

A. The Richfield Comprehensive Plan addresses the topics of land use, housing, transportation, parks and more. This document helps shape how Richfield will grow and change over the next 20 years.

Q. Why should I be interested in the Comprehensive Plan?

A. The comprehensive plan provides guidance to elected officials, City staff, developers, neighborhood groups and other community stakeholders to ensure progress towards a common vision. The City of Richfield consults the plan when:

-) A developer or property owner proposes to build a new building.
-) Rebuilding a street, constructing a bikeway, or planning a transit project.
-) Maintaining and investing in our park system.
-) Designing programs and strategies for affordable housing and employment.

Q. Why should I attend the open house?

A. The open house will provide you the opportunity to review elements of the Comprehensive Plan update and to provide feedback. Items will include a draft parks master plan and concept ideas for the land uses near 66th Street and Nicollet Avenue. Your input at this open house can help shape the vision of the community.

Q. What has occurred over the past few months?

A. Richfield hosted informational booths throughout the community and collected feedback online between April and June. This was an opportunity for Richfield residents to provide input on what makes our community a great place to live, work and play. Input received during the public engagement activities was compiled to better understand key themes (e.g., issues, opportunities, needs and assets). These findings are posted online and will be on display at the open house.

Q. Why is the City updating the Comprehensive Plan?

A. Richfield is required by State law to update our comprehensive plan every ten years. The current Richfield Comprehensive Plan was adopted in 2008.
