The Market APPLICATION

Open Streets at Penn Fest temporarily closes Penn Avenue to car traffic and welcomes community groups, local businesses and vendors to create a fun and festive environment for people to walk, bike, skate and play in the street. This is not a street festival, it is meant to encourage people to explore the Penn Central neighborhood and promote active transportation and healthy living. The event is one mile in length and attractions are spread out along the entire stretch of Penn Ave., creating an active and entertaining environment for all. An estimated 8,000 people attended the event in 2018.
